

Dr. Robert Perneczky received his MD degree in 2001 and his PhD degree in 2004 from Technische Universität München, Germany. He was an assistant doctor at the Department of Psychiatry and Psychotherapy, Technische Universität München from 2002 to 2008. In 2009 he became a board certified specialist for psychiatry and psychotherapy and accepted the position of head of the the Neurobiological Laboratory, Department of Psychiatry and Psychotherapy, Technische Universität München.

Dr. Perneczky research interests focus on the neurobiology of degenerative dementias, including clinical, neuroimaging, neurogenetic, and neurochemical studies. His scientific work was published in over 50 peer-reviewed journal articles and he was also awarded several research prizes for his studies. He is currently a visiting research fellow at the Department of Clinical Neurosciences, Cambridge University, UK.